From the Pastor's Desk

“Ἐν ἀρχῇ ἦν ὁ Λόγος, καὶ ὁ Λόγος ἦν πρὸς τὸν Θεόν, καὶ Θεὸς ἦν ὁ Λόγος” = In the Beginning was the Logos, and the Logos was with God and the Logos was God. John 1:1

This verse from the beginning of the Gospel of John is so familiar to us because it is used during the lighting of the candles on Christmas Eve and during the Divine Mass on Christmas Morning. But what exactly does John mean by the “Logos”? How can Jesus, who was born a human baby, be known as this Logos even from the beginning of Creation when his Father spoke all the heavenly bodies and the world into being and why is this important to us during the season of Christmas.

In Greek Philosophy, Logos began to appear in usage around 500 BC where it was associated with mathematics and logic. “Logos” means, “to put in order” or “to account for something”. For philosophers like Aristotle, he used it in the context of sentences and the logic structure behind an argument and in setting up a debate to prove one’s position. After Alexander the Great introduced Hellenistic culture into the land of Israel, the Jewish spiritual leaders picked up on using Logos as a means of explaining how God interacts with the world around them. It wasn’t a far leap to go from the Jewish understanding of Logos to the Gospel of John in which the author of John turns the ‘discourse’ into the “Living Word” to explain how Jesus co-existed with God and the Holy Spirit and how God spoke the world into being through Jesus, the Divine Logos. Logos being used in this context as the order of Creation as perceived by God.

It seems very confusing to think of Jesus as a ‘Divine Word’, and that troubled Martin Luther. He changed the meaning of Logos from a verb to a noun which reflected more of what Luther perceived as the “Word of God” being Jesus as the fulfillment of Scripture. However future Lutheran Reformers will adjust Luther’s understanding of Jesus as the “Word” to being a “Living Word”, meaning that Jesus is the will of the Father in an incarnate form, spoken into being to fulfill God’s purpose. The Logos is also referenced in the Gospel of Luke, but it is used more as a description of the teaching of Jesus rather than a formal title for Jesus as the writer of John used it.

No matter how we explain what “Logos” is, the main idea to remember is that in the Trinity the Father, Son and Holy Spirit all co-existed and that God called all things into being through the Son and guided by the Holy Spirit. Jesus is the Word of God, both in Scripture and the spoken Word thus why Jesus said that heaven and earth may pass away but His Word will never pass away. The Word is the same yesterday, today and forever, just as God's promises are sure and eternal. So even today, when we hear the words again about "Glory to God in the Highest and Peace to God's people on Earth", we know that someday, we will have peace, the peace that only God can give, will reign over all of God's Creation. Merry Christmas and a very Happy New Year from all of us at St John's Lutheran Church. – Amen
